APING UNCLE SAM

AUSTRALIA'S SUCCESSFUL efforts in whipping the depression has been the cause of much comment and criticism of Canadian policy in whipping the "depression" as distinct from the "recession", and complaint is made that Canada ought to have adopted the same policy as Australia, which incidentally has been successful in winning a large part of the Oriental trade from this Dominion. The Peace River Record, in an article published in the next column, seems to attribute Canada's share in the depression to the policy of aping Uncle Sam.

There may be a considerable amount of truth in the last paragraph of the article particularly as it applies to the present Federal Government, but we cannot entirely agree that Canada followed Uncle Sam in her methods of combating the depression from 1930 to 1934, nor are we prepared to admit that imitation of the Australian policy would have had the same effect in Canada as it had in Australia.

The problems of the two countries were quite different. Australia's debt was mostly payable in London and it was only logical for the Government of that country, with the assistance and help that she received from London, to follow the pound Canada could have done likewise had it not been for one factor in particular, namely, that by far the major portion of Canada's Federal, Provincial, Municipal and Corporate debt was payable in New York funds. In interest alone it amounts to about a billion dollars a day and had Canada followed the Australian policy it would have taken an extra quarter of a million dollars per day to meet that obligations alone, and while undoubtedly a large portion of that money would have returned to Canada, the people of this country would have paid out approximately 25 per cent in premiums to settle Canadian debt in New York.

While Canada's large Oriental trade might have been more adequately protected by depreciation of the currency on a basis to the point instead of keeping it approximately on a parity with New York, the penalties would have been heavy, and probably would have exceeded the advantages which might have accrued by imitating Australia.

In reaching the decision it did the then Government of Canada undoubtedly acted in what it thought to be for the best interests of the whole Dominion, even though by so doing it knew the policy would adversely affect certain parts of the country. After all, it does not do to take a too parochial view of such matters, and the general welfare of the country ought to be paramount in the minds of our leaders. Once more the electors of Bristol, England, that he represented Britain, not Bristol. If there was more of that spirit prevalent, we opine, the Provinces of this Dominion would form a much happier family association.

INVINCIBILITY

REGARDLESS OF THE final outcome of the China-Japanese frays, which at the moment seems entirely uncertain, the illusion widely held among Occidental races and popularly believed by the Chinese at the commencement of the war, of the invincibility of the Jap, seems to have been dispelled for the time being, at least in the eyes of the Occidentals. As a man of war, John Chinaman seems to have discovered that his Oriental neighbor has his limitations, and that possibly with organization, cohesion, and some help from experienced officers, The Nipponese might yet be whipped, if not entirely driven out.

HORSE AND TRACTOR

POWER MACHINERY has certainly gained the ascendancy over "Old Dobbin" in the fact that as the automobile has driven him from the highways. Very few horses may be seen at work in the fields nowadays. The trend is indicated completely by the remark of a man who farms on an extensive scale, that one tractor out of his farm now does the work previously accomplished by eighty horses.

Apart from the sentimental aspect of the matter, no one would desire to revert to the days of the horse and buggy. So it is on the farm, and it may as well be admitted, however reluctantly, that "Dobbin" or his farm is on the way out. Like everything else however, the displacement of the horse has its repercussions elsewhere. Statistical fiends has been pointed out by a contemporary, raise the point that for every horse sold from a Western Canada farm and replaced by a tractor, increases the cereal market of production. Assuming the statement to be true, or even by reducing the acreage required to feed a horse to two acres, it will be clear that it must be a tremendous factor in helping to flood the wheat market in times of over production. Furthermore with a declining birthrate in many countries it is not at all likely that natural increase in world population will make up the difference, at least for many years to come.

SASKATCHEWAN INVASION

THE INVASION OF Saskatchewan has begun. Following receipt of some invitations, boldly solicited by Mr. Aberhart, extending what The Premier will probably term "a hearty and unanimous request" to come into our Sister Province and enlighten "the folks". Quite recently our Premier told an enthusiastic audience that he was far too busy, or had enough troubles on his shoulders without thinking of becoming Premier of Western Canada. It appears that he is not too busy to get himself involved in an election at his own request, but not at his own expense. In the "taking way" the Premier has, he has asked the people of Saskatchewan to foot the bill via the collection route. It is not clear yet just whether the Premier will draw his salary for the time he is electioneering in climes other than Alberta. And it may be taken for granted that the other Ministers of the Crown who may go east in the same venture, will expect to be paid at the month end as usual.

The election at this distance promises to be a rousing one. A whirlwind organization campaign has been promised by the W.C.S.C.A. if the Premier is up to his usual form there certainly ought to be plenty of victory. By the way, for the enlightenment of our readers, the foregoing letters mean Western Canada Social Credit Association. Speakers representing this Association will not be sent into Saskatchewan. They will be invited. And according to Social Credit reasoning this represents the difference between their modus operandi and that of the Liberal Party in the Edmonton by-election, where the Federal Liberal Party was severely criticized for dragging in new cabinet Ministers to the Capital City on an electioneering mission, which clearly was very much the business of the Liberal Party.

REFLECTED GLORY—AND MISERY

WHEN AUSTRALIA, during the Senior Depression (as distinguishing it from the present "business" recession) went off the gold standard, she brought prosperity to her people while most of the world was still suffering from economic ills. Canada had not the foresight to take similar action but waited for the United States to set an example, by which time it was too late for us to derive the benefit that would have been ours had we taken independent action earlier.

Our depression was imported from the southern republic, and our politics has been but a poor attempt at aping the policies of another country, whose conditions, purposes and connections are not necessarily identical with our own. Canadian efforts at recovery have been most ineffective, and instead of holding our own when recovery began, Canada, with enormous opportunity, has drifted along, and today is suffering from the second depression due more to lack of leadership than from any other cause.

Canada needs roads, needs such a general program of work as has been outlined by the minister of Labor, Mr. Norman Rogers. But instead of instituting an effective program it would appear to be the policy of our government to wait and see what happens Mr. Roosevelt's new plan for borrowing himself out of debt and spending his way to prosperity. Meanwhile we are taxing the people to support an ever increasing relief army in dissatisfied conditions which are tending to develop anarchy and communism. Our parliamentarians at Ottawa would seem to be more concerned with the question of the pork barrel than they are in developing the country on a scale that would provide labor instead of relief and create tonnage which would make it possible for our railways to pay their way and relieve the tax burden. Until we have a better example than that of an Englishman's long battle in Ottawa for the past two decades, we may expect a long battle in Canadian chronological history when again the time comes to write of "The Makers of Canada." Just now we do not appear to have any public men capable of qualifying under that heading. —Peace River Record

NATIONAL WAR MEMORIAL

THE NATIONAL War Memorial will soon be erected in Ottawa. This structure occupying 35 large crates, was shipped from England in parts last year. It was fashioned by seven brothers and a sister in studios at Farnborough, Kent. It is the result of ten years work.

When it was decided that Canada should have a memorial of her own in her capital city, architects and sculptors were invited to submit designs. Over one hundred entries were received, among them that of an English sculptor, Vernon March. Later he heard from his radio that a Kent sculptor, namely himself, had won an international competition for the Canadian War Memorial. He and his six brothers and sister, at once set to work on the full scale design. That was in 1926, but in 1930, tragedy overtook the family, for Vernon March died. The work however, went continuously forward, the brothers and sister, sharing their labors on the small soft-clay model made by their brother. It is kept now under a glass case in their home in Kent.

When completed, the memorial was erected temporarily in Hyde Park where it made a deep and lasting impression on all who saw it, a silent reminder of the sacrifice made by 60,000 Canadians.

Consisting of a tall granite arch, surmounted by huge bronze figures of Liberty and Victory, the memorial symbolizes the triumph of peace over war. At the base of the arch are 22 figures representing every branch of the war service hurrying towards the new dawn and leaving behind them an unblemished gun. The only inscription on it is simply "1914-1918".

All told, the memorial reaches a height of 70 feet. Sculptures by the March family are already well-known in Canada. In Hamilton, for example, there is the famous memorial to the United Empire Loyalists, executed by the March family in front of the parliament buildings at Victoria. B.C. stands the Provincial War Memorial, also the product of March workshops, while in Orillia, Ont., stands Vernon March's fine statue of Champlain—The Pictou Advocate.

CENTRALIZATION

IT SEEMS A PITY that the provincial government should go ahead with its plans to close the Camrose Normal School. Only too few public institutions are located in towns the majority of them being in the cities. Probably convenience and efficiency suggest that such institutions as Normal Schools should be in the city, but it would be better for the province if there would be less centralization and more up-building of the towns.

The Camrose Normal School has meant considerable in the life of that thriving community. The institution has helped to build up a splendid town which is proving to be a convenient and a useful asset to the countryside. Closing the school will certainly effect that town adversely.

As cities grow larger their problems increase. The huge cities of the United States and Canada, and in fact of all countries, are the weakest parts of the national set-up. It is sounder to have a large number of smaller cities and towns scattered through the countryside than to have a very few big ones.

As towns grow and prosper they afford opportunities for farm boys and girls. To a farmer with several children this is an important matter. He cannot keep all of them on his place, and some of them must leave home to seek a living elsewhere.

With the tremendous influence of the cities on governments the viewpoint of the rural part of the population is too frequently overlooked. It is unfortunate that this is the case and it is time that the towns joined together to fight a united battle to protect their interests.

CHINA AND JAPAN

JAPAN in HER programme of territorial aggression, which she has steadily pursued for over fifty years at the expense of China, would seem to have bitten off almost more than she can readily digest. Already she has sent out feelers for peace with her aims and objects, as previously announced, not yet fully achieved. The economic strain is becoming too great and the Nipponese may require to abandon for the time being some of their plans. John Chinaman, however, in his newly found unity is not likely to take kindly to Japan getting any more of his possessions, and with the support which he will likely get from France and possibly other countries may make things rather hot for the race which he previously admitted in a purely defeatist spirit "could not be whipped."

GAMBLING ARISTOCRATS

The recent investigation into the New York Stock exchange, which resulted in the trial and conviction of its president, Whitney, does not enhance such organizations in the eyes of the public, and in the eyes of God's own common people especially. We have frequently questioned in our own mind the right of any man to go into the stock market and make a million dollars... or for that matter to lose a million dollars. No contribution to the progress of humanity can possibly be claimed by such a method. We still think it's only a snooty way of running a gambling joint—Clareholm Local Press.

FIGURES IN A BOOK?

What gives rise to a loan?

"Credit can only be issued against real assets... The amount of credit must always be limited to the amount of free money..."

That was written by one of the greatest of Socialists—the late Viscount Snowden of Eborahaw, Philip Snowden, in 1935—little more than two years ago.

Few stood so long or so resolutely in the forefront of public controversy, or aroused such fierce opposition by vigour of opinion or severity of tongue—and none passed to his rest having earned greater public respect than Viscount Snowden.

His career was a triumph of sturdy British character. He took an unpopular course during the Great War, but later became one of his country's great figures, standing firmly for his convictions and for soundness in the financial structure of Great Britain.

His words quoted above apply to Canadian banking today with all the force with which he applied them that day to banking in England. The Canadian banking system is a British system, adjusted from time to time to fit the needs of a developing nation in the changing scene of this new world.

Credit can only be issued against real assets. That is as true today as ever. You cannot create credit by writing figures in a book. You cannot make loans regardless of deposits, collateral or repayment, then write the loans up with a fountain pen as figures in a book labelled "Deposits" and lend them over and over.

If you could, then bankers in any country would need no more than a fountain pen to prevent bank failures.

During the last ten fiscal years Canada's chartered banks have paid more than $397,000,000 in interest on deposits. If they could create deposits by the magic process of writing figures in a book, they could have saved that $397,000,000!

And if banks could lend ten times the amount of their deposits, collecting interest each time, bank profits would become a national scandal, dividends would be paid in astronomical figures, people would be shamed, and there would be a land office rush on at Ottawa for bank charters.

But what are the facts?

Bank profits last year averaged less than half of one per cent on total assets—a lower margin than that of any other class of business, corporate or individual.

Dividends are less than 4½ per cent on shareholders' investment; nobody is scrambling to sell all he owns to invest in bank shares, and there is no land office rush at Ottawa for bank charters—though no application has been refused in the last fifteen years.

Banks perform no miracles.

RED CROSS SOCIETY CAMPAIGNS FOR MEMBERS

Working with a degree of efficiency unrealized by most Albertans, the Alberta Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society closed the year 1937 with a record of services rendered of which its officials may well be proud. The record summarized below is truly impressive.

In a general way 717 families representing 3,583 persons, were supplied with 7,513 articles of clothing and kitchen utensils, while in the drought area supplies were issued to 5,375 families, representing 26,385 persons. To families who lost their homes and belongings by fire at Breton and Cochrane, relief was sent within 24 hours of the catastrophes. Layettes representing 3,627 articles of clothing for new Canadians born in Alberta were sent to expectant mothers.

Many appeals from ex-soldiers and their families were investigated and relief afforded. The health by mail service operated by the division was particularly active and 90 nurses were enrolled for emergency service.

With 771 branches the Junior Red Cross branch of the Division's activities was increased by 104 over 1936, with the children most enthusiastic over the training they receive.

Perhaps the most impressive activity of the Division is the Junior Red Cross "Hospital" for Cripple Children, operated in Calgary. During the year

Hussar Stampede To be Held On Tues. May 24th

A meeting of the Stampede Committee was held in the office of the secretary on Saturday, and plans were discussed and several innovations made on the regular program. This year's Stampede, to be held on May 24th, will start the Stampede season off with a bang, as it will offer a full and splendid Stampede features, as well as a dance with a good orchestra.

The Scouts and the pupils of the Hussar school had a splendid practice in basket ball and other athletics on Saturday, under the direction of Mr. Albert Pfa.

Mother's Day was commemorated with fitting services at the hall on Sunday afternoon, with Rev. J. M. Fawcett, of Calgary preaching the Mothers' Day message. The Sunday School pupils contributed songs, readings and a playlet, and Mrs. Pfa played a violin solo accompanied by Miss R. Brown. Mrs. H. D. Brown also sang. The contribution was divided between the Church and the Sunday School.

After a week of rainy weather, the sun appeared on Monday morning. Farmers expected to be on the fields again by Wednesday. Fortunately, several had in two and three hundred acres of wheat before the storm, but many had only 40 to 50 ft. The soil has not been in such good condition as far as moisture is concerned for many years, and the farmers are optimistic and will seek to full capacity this spring.

TENDERS FOR COAL
SEALD Tenders for coal for the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Coal for Western Provinces" will be received until 12 o'clock noon (daylight saving) Friday, May 12, 1938, for the supply of coal for the Dominion Buildings and Experimental Farms and Stations throughout the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Forms of tender with specifications and conditions attached can be obtained from the Purchasing Agent, Department of Public Works, Ottawa; the District Resident Architect, Winnipeg; the District Resident Architect, Saskatoon; the District Resident Architect, Calgary; and the District Resident Architect, Victoria, B. C.

Tenders should be made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with departmental specifications and conditions attached thereto.

In the case of tenders quoting for one or more places or buildings and when the total of their offer exceeds the sum of $50,000, they must attach to their tender a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, or Heavy Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies, unconditionally guaranteed as to the principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada, or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque if required to make up an odd amount.

The Department also reserves the right to demand from any successful tenderer a security deposit in the form of a certified cheque or bond as above, equal to 10 per cent of the amount he bids to guarantee the proper fulfilment of the contract.

By order,
J. M. SOMERVILLE
Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, April 21, 1938.

There were 81 patients admitted from all parts of the province, while 53 patients made visits to the out-patient department for treatment. Expenditures were close to $30,000.00. This altogether the cost of the 1937 year was close to $30,000.00. This had to be met by contributions from the public. The campaign for Red Cross membership and subscriptions for 1938 began on May 1st, and ends on May 14th. The objective of the Committee is $20,000.00.

The Recorder commends the cause of the Red Cross to its readers and trusts that as far as possible they will rally to its support.

T. C. Main, General Manager of Ducks Unlimited (Canada) announces the appointment of E. B. Russenolt as Assistant General Manager. Mr. Russenolt is well-known in Publicity, Natural Resources and Conservation fields in Western Canada. His appointment is another step in completing the executive and technical organization of Ducks Unlimited (Canada).

The program of Ducks Unlimited (Canada) for this season is in full swing. Plans call for the expenditure of $100,000 in 1938; and $300,000 over the next five years.

This money is being raised and expended through the organized cooperation of sportsmen and conservationists in Canada and United States, to restore and multiply the number of wild ducks produced in North America's great duck producing areas in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The program includes restoration and maintenance of water areas; provision of forest and prairie fire; protection of nesting areas; destruction of crows and other predators; research and observation of diseases, etc.

Provincial and municipal authorities and community leaders throughout Western Canada are cooperating wholeheartedly, because the work done to multiply the duck crop vitally benefits farms, forests and the entire economic life of the west.

That Ducks Unlimited (Canada) has a long-felt want, as a centre of action for the organizations and countless individuals interested in conservation throughout Western Canada is proved by the flood of letters pouring into head office, at 505 Commercial Building, Winnipeg, urging action on various projects and submitting suggestions therefor.

Preliminary work is being rushed on projects selected for immediate development. It is hoped that at Big Grass Marsh, near Gladstone, Manitoba, and Waterhen Lake, South of Kinsella, Saskatchewan, construction will be well forward by the end of May, so that this spring runoff may be utilized in restoring the great breeding areas and increasing duck production for which these centres were noted years ago.

Preliminary work is proceeding at Yellowknife Marsh, near Werbur, Saskatchewan, and in various other areas where the former vast production of ducks has been sadly depleted in recent years. Major projects will be undertaken by Ducks Unlimited (Canada) in each of the three Western provinces this season, in addition to numerous lesser developments.

Mr. Main, with Mr. A. C. Camerle, of the More Game Birds in America, and Mr. Russenolt, will shortly be in Alberta to complete organization and get work under way in that province.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PICTURES WITH WEAK LIGHT

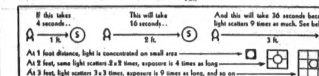

Hard to take! A box camera gets it with a 4-second exposure. Other cameras, 1 second at f.8.3. Exposure is short because the light is rather near the face.

If the camera has little light, it needs to make a picture if the light is placed close to the subject. For instance, look at the snapshot above. The only light is the weak little electric candle lamp, held about a foot from the child's face. With the lamp at that distance, a box camera loaded with super-sensitive film can get the picture with a four-second time exposure. Lamp two feet from her, exposure would be sixteen seconds—four times as long. Lamp three feet away, exposure is thirty-six seconds—nine times as long.

Reason: When light is close up, it spreads over a much larger area, and your subject gets very little of it. The distance between the light and the camera doesn't matter. It's the distance from light to subject that counts. To take a picture like the one above, use a frosted white bulb, and have it as near the center of the picture as possible. Such pictures are worth trying. Sometimes you miss—but the good ones you get are so unusual that they justify your experiments.

John van Outster

The nearer the light to subject, the less exposure required. (Distance from camera to subject doesn't matter.) If your indoor pictures are coming out too dark, try using more light, have bulbs closer to subject, or give longer exposures.

Financial Statement of the Bassano Municipal Hospital District No. 6

For the year Ending December 31, 1937

217 Dominion Bank Bldg., Calgary, Alta.
March 16, 1938.

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of the Bassano Municipal Hospital District No. 6,
Bassano, Alberta.

Gentlemen:

Having completed the audit of the books of the Bassano Municipal Hospital District No. 6, for the year ending December 31, 1937, we have pleasure in presenting herewith your Financial Statements for the period showing:

- (1) Capital Account Balance Sheet, as at December 31, 1937.
- (2) Revenue Account Balance Sheet as at December 31, 1937.
- (3) Operating Account, for the year 1937.
- (4) Receipts and Payments, for the year 1937.

FIRM INSURANCE IN FORCE: We are pleased to note that you had appraisements and inventories made on your hospital buildings and equipment during the Spring of 1937. These new valuations have been incorporated in your books of account and are shown on the attached Capital Account Balance Sheet, subject to their respective depreciation reserves, calculated on the basis of the ascertained depreciation since your preceding appraisement, some six years previous. The depreciation is now calculated on an annual basis at 2.53% on buildings and at 7% on the contained equipment.

By eliminating from your recent appraisal the values of excavations and concrete work of a non-insurable nature, we herewith submit a schedule prepared from your 1937 valuations, showing your insurable valuations and the present amount of insurance carried thereon:

ON BUILDINGS:

	Appraised insurable valuation	Insurance carried
Hospital, General	$16,350.00	$14,000.00
Hospital Isolation	2,400.00	2,000.00
Nurses' Residence	7,300.00	6,000.00
Storage Building	190.00	150.00
Morgue Building	150.00
TOTAL	$27,390.00	$23,150.00

ON CONTENTS:

	Inventory insurable valuation	Insurance carried
Hospital, General	$7,367.60	$5,500.00
Nurses' Residence	1,581.00	1,000.00
Storage Building	75.75	100.00
TOTALS	$9,724.35	$6,600.00

RESERVES: During the year 1937, collections were made to the extent of $27.50 on old doubtful Accounts Receivable which had previously been written off into Bad Debts Reserve as non-collectible. Bad debts, to the amount of $2,468.28, were this year written off into Bad Debts Reserve as authorized by the minutes of the Board. To maintain this reserve up to the customary 50% of the fees outstanding at present, a further amount of $2,892.74 has been reserved out of the 1937 revenue earnings.

INVESTMENTS: Under date of May 1, 1937, your civic municipal bond holdings of a par value of $28,000 were exchanged for Province of Alberta bonds of a par value of $27,000.00 subject to an amount due on the switch of $290.00 by your Board. This latter amount was later reduced by $15.00 owing to a June 1, 1937 interest coupon having been already cut off one of the Provincial bonds prior to delivery to you.

Your bond investments now consist entirely of Province of Alberta bonds and are as follows:

Prov. of Alberta Bonds,	Par Value	Cost	Market Value
6% (now 5) Sept. 1, 1941 $ 5,000.00		$ 4,389.00	$10,000.00
5% (now 3) Oct. 1, 1941, 3,000.00		2,440.00	1,580.00
6% (now 5) Dec. 1, 1941, 2,000.00		1,740.00	1,230.00
4% (now 3) July 15, 1953 30,000.00		26,350.00	15,000.00
5% (now 3) Sept. 1, 1953 17,000.00		14,087.00	9,180.00
TOTALS	$57,000.00	49,107.58	30,230.00

The bonds due on July 15th, 1953, are registered in the name of the Hospital District while the balance of the bonds are bearer bonds. All of the above bonds are kept in your safety deposit box with your Banker and were duly inspected by us during recent audit.

The attached Balance Sheets are, in our opinion, properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the financial affairs of the Bassano Municipal Hospital District No. 6 as at December 31, 1937, the books conforming therewith.

Makepeace Musings

It looks as though he never going to dry up; at least not with the rain coming and going when it wishes.

Versa—In collecting for the suffering and poor, I shall be glad of your help. Father—Butting and poor? Why are you so sure that they really do suffer?

Versa—I'm quite sure. Why I go into their homes and talk to them for hours on end. Father—

Johnny and Billy had quarrelled. "If I saw you drowning I wouldn't throw you a rope," said Johnny. "And even if you did throw me one I wouldn't even touch it." Billy proudly replied.

Alvin—When I got home last night my wife met me at the door and kissed me and had the best dinner ready that she had ever cooked since I've known her.

Edward—"What did she want? A new fur coat or merely a diamond ring?" Alvin—Neither, she told me this. She had invited her mother to visit with us for a month.

"Is this your first trip to our city?" "No, I was here five years ago."

"I suppose you noticed a good many changes?" "Yes quite a lot, but I think I had the same steak for dinner this noon that I sent back when I was here before."

"Well Pat," said a man, "we must all die once."

"That's the heck of it, and it both, re," replied the sick man, "if I could die a half a dozen times, I wouldn't mind it now."

Scout Notes

The regular meeting of the Bassano Boy Scout Troop was held on Thursday last week on the local school grounds. Nearly all the members of the organization were present, although several reported themselves late.

Scoutmaster McLaws gave the boys new instructions and taught new maneuvers in Platoon drill, these exercises lasting until approximately 1:45.

Several of the older members of the troop have outgrown their uniforms. Thus it was found necessary to make the purchase of new equipment. New uniforms were given to these boys, their former ones being turned over to Scouts they would fit.

With the use of diagrams on the blackboard, Mr. McLaws gave further instructions on Platoon drill.

The First Aid Corps was chosen to represent the Cadets at their annual inspection in the near future. The boys are preparing themselves for this in their endeavor to retain the title they won last year.

"RIDDLES"

1. What has ears but cannot hear?
2. Why do we buy clothes?
3. Why is a fish hook like the letter Y?

4. When is a Tiger like water?
5. When is your pocket like 2 letters of the alphabet?

"ANSWERS"
1. Cows—2. Because we can't get them for nothing—3. Because it makes an ell fell—4. When it springs—5. When it M. T. (empty).

On Saturday Mr. Ellis Campbell tipped over with his car. Besides a few bruises he escaped serious injury.

On Thursday May 5th, the 9th meeting of the Makepeace Junior Red Cross was held. After the regular business was dispensed with a very interesting program, consisting of songs, recitations and readings was sponsored.

Last week Mr. Clarence Duiger fell unconsciously into the claret while cleaning it. He was taken to the Bassano Hospital. His many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. L. Shumaker of Calgary opened the Pool Elevator at Makepeace last Tuesday, and has been busy waiting out the seed wheat for the dried out farmers of this district.

Bail practice that was to have been held at Makepeace Sunday May 8, was postponed on account of the disagreeable weather.

Bassano, May 6th, 1938.

"The man I marry," she declared, with a stamp of the foot, "must be a hero!" "He will be," remarked the cautious bachelor.

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN RED CROSS SOCIETY AND LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANIES

ANEMIA

Twelve years ago, liver could be bought for a few cents, and was used to feed to the cat or dog. Today, so many people are eating liver that the price has advanced until it is only the indexed cost which gets an occasional taste.

It was no longer ago than 1925 when it was observed that patients suffering from pernicious anemia were much improved when they used a half-pound of liver each day.

Anemia is a general term which means that the blood is deficient in its quantity or quality. There are several kinds of anemia, such as that which follows upon a hemorrhage, or the anemia which usually develops as a part of such chronic diseases as tuberculosis, cancer, malaria and lead poisoning.

Then there are the anemias which occur because of the failure of the organs which manufacture the red blood cells. We cannot live without oxygen, and if there are not enough red blood cells, or if there is a lack of the haemoglobin which should be in these cells to carry oxygen, then the body tissues are starved of the oxygen which they need.

The red cells are manufactured by the red marrow at the ends of the long bones, ribs and vertebrae. Pernicious anemia was, until recent times, almost always fatal. The red cells were so rapidly destroyed that the bone marrow could not meet the demand; this, in the end, meant death, as the blood could not carry enough oxygen to all the tissues to sustain life.

Liver contains something which brings back the blood of pernicious anemia patients to normal and so gives them back their health. No longer is the victim of pernicious anemia doomed to die; health and strength are his through the continued proper use of liver or liver extract. The name of liver spread, and many people begin to eat it on the general principle that what is good for one is good for others, which is, of course, absurd.

Liver is not even of value in the treatment of all anemia. The chlorotic, or "green sickness" of young girls, a form of anemia, disappears with improved habits of living; other forms of anemia respond to iron therapy. In all cases, a blood examination is required to determine what form of anemia is present; this must be known before proper treatment can be prescribed.

FOUR INDIANS AND FIVE CARS IN ACCIDENT

Four Glenside Indians, Joe Ogeup, William and Jack Fox, were injured Saturday night when their car went into the ditch west of Strathmore. The Calgary Herald says its part of the accident: Returning from Calgary, Joe Fox's car stalled just west of Strathmore. He sent word to Hughes Motors for help and the wrecking truck was sent out to tow his car in. When they reached the hill on the west side of Hantley's corner west of town, Fox's car, which had poor brakes, got out of control and went into the ditch. Hearing a loud crash, George Gloor, driver of the service truck, stopped immediately find Fox's car upset in the ditch. The car was a complete wreck and Mr. Fox badly shaken and cut.

A car from the east happening along just then stopped beside the wrecking truck, partly blocking the road. At the same time a big truck came over the hill from the west and the driver not having time to stop and being blinded by the lights of the west-bound car side-swiped the service truck.

The car from the east drove away just as another passenger car came from the west and crashed into the truck. The injured Indians were taken to Strathmore where they were treated by Dr. J. Giffin before Constable Carter drove them to the Indian Hospital at Glenside.

How Does Life Insurance Benefit Living Policyholders?

Answer.—It enables policyholders to build a substantial cash reserve for future needs—and at the same time ensure protection for their families.

Question.—How does Life Insurance ensure funds for retirement?

Answer.—When the need of protection is passed, the proceeds of a policy may be used to provide a guaranteed monthly income.

Q.—What percentage of Life Insurance payments are made to living policyholders?

A.—Approximately 75 per cent.

Q.—How is the balance of these payments made?

A.—In death benefits to the beneficiaries of policyholders.

Q.—How much money does Life Insurance distribute each year to living policyholders in Canada?

A.—More than $100,000,000 a year.

This is the sixth of a series of messages sponsored by Life Insurance Companies operating in Canada. The seventh, to appear in two weeks' time, will show how Life Insurance savings finance mortgage loans.
